Chairman Buston's Statement.

mate of the result now," said Chairman Huston, of the Republican State central committee, yesterday. "You want them on the congressional contest? Well, I figure them out this way. I know the Sixth, Ninth and Tenth distracts are Republican districts, and I have great confidence that the Eighth and Eleventh are also.

We have the most encouraging reports from well-informed friends that we have Twelfth, and I would not be surprised to see Hoyne win in the Thirteenth district. That is pretty near a clean sweep I know, but you watch the result. As to State Senators, I think we have a good chance of success in seventeen districts at least, which, with a Republican majority in the House, would give us the control in both branches of the Legislature as well as on the Republican State ticket will be chosen by majorities not varying much from those figures.

The above estimate is based wholly on my opinion of the actual condition of political preferences in this State, and on the supposition that the perpetration of election frauds which

EXCELSIOR FACTORY DESTROYED

the Machinery Is Badly Damaged.

property destroyed, says that the loss will be over $12,000. There is $7,500 insurance on the factory placed with McGilliard & Dark's agency.

How the fire originated is not known. Mr.

Johnson thinks that the building was set on fire by tramps. His machinery was operated by water-power, and there had not been week. Only a few nights ago be said the night-watchman drove out a number of tramps who were found sleeping in the sheds. Fully 165 cords of wood were burned and nothing remained when the department left at 1 o'clock this morning but the charred frame of Chrysanthemum Exhibition.

The annual chrysanthemum exhibition by the Indiana florists will be given from the 13th to the 17th of this month, in Tomlinson Hall. Half rates have been obtained on all the roads centering here for visitors from this State. On Wednesday afternoon the school children will be admitted free, and that night a banquet is to be given visiting florists at Schaffner's.

In the exhibition will be seen a valuable display of orchids from New York, Philadelphia and Boston.

Booming.

The National Benefit Association has overcome the political excitement far enough to increase its business 35 per cent. during the month of October. The N. B. A. is one of the leading accident insurance companies, not only here at

Y. M. C. A. Building.

Just received, an elegant holiday line of cheviote and Crombie overcoatings for business suits and coats and vests. A large and elegant assortment of fancy, vestings for the holidays

Wrought Steel Ranges.

of fuel, including natural gas. Send for list of references. Heating stoves for natural gas.

"Howe" ventilating base-burner. Do not buy till you see it. "Happy Thought" cast ranges,

WM. H. BENNETT & Son, 38 S. Meridian st.

Success" natural-gas cooking stoves.

The "M. & D." wrought steel ranges; all kinds

NORB LANDGRAFF, 35 N. Illinois st.

will be here from London about the 10th.

home, but in other States as well.

stood the sheds.

the building and a heap of ashes where had fire about the building during the am satisfied are contemplated by good chance to

First, Fourth, Fifth, Seventh

"I have no objection to giving you my esti-

THE PARTIES' LAST PARADE

Republicans Excel Their Opponents in Numbers and Excellence of Display.

They Turn Out Several Thousand Strong. While the Throngs of Spectators Add to the Great Enthusiasm for Harrison.

Indianapolis was given over to political enthustasm last night. Both parties had their last demonstrations, and from 6 o'clock in the evening until midnight there were continued evidences of party zeal. There have been stirring times here before at the close of memorable sampaigns, but never was there of enthusiasm such a demonstration, especially upon the part of the Republicans, as there was last night. Early in the evening people began to gather in the principal business streets, and from that time on every street car coming down town was erowded, and thousands began to wend their way toward the two lines of march on foot. Before dark the windows of every building along Washington, Pennsylvania and other streets were occupied, and the sidewalks were blockaded. It seemed that every man, woman and child in Indianapolis was out. While a majority of the people on the streets hunting desirable places from which to view the proceswomen and children, there throngs of men who took no part in either parade, except to give evidence of their zeal in whatever form suited them best. In these manifestations of enthusiasm there was by far the strongest Harrison and Morton spirit. The General's name could be heard always, and to any place one went among the throngs that packed Washington and Pennsylvania streets, could be found the spirit of overshadowing Republicanism. The children chanted his name, and young ladies crowded the sidewalks decorated with flags, and earrying Harrison banners. From nearly every business block along the Republican line of march Harrison flags and pictures were floating. In fact, everywhere one went Harrison While the thousands of people were crowding the sidewalks and hurrahing for Harrison, the The Blue Jeans Club was small. A member of erganized clubs of the two parties were hurrying to their respective rendezvous. Both parties abided carefully by the agreement entered into by the two chief marshals, and there were no collisions of clubs marching to the points for formation. In accordance with the agreement the Republicans were ready to move at 7:30 o'clock, and a few minutes after that time the head of the procession moved out upon Washington street at Alabama, and the march was begun. The Democrate started balf an hour later, and then reached Pennsylvania street on Washington a half an hour before the Republicans were through passing off Washington out Pennsylvania. It was feared that there might be a collision and trouble at that point, but acting upon the instructions of Superintendent Travis, the head of the Democratic procession was balted at the Meridian-street crossing until the last of the Republican line had turned into Pennsylvania street. By that arrangement the processions hardly came into sight of each other, any there was no possibility of any trouble. The thousands who viewed the two parades agreed unanimously that the Republicans were the winners both as to the number of men in line, and the general display. If the Democrats had given a wholly local demonstration as the Republicans did there would have been no room for comparison. As it was the Democrats drew largely from the Democracy of Hancock and Shelby counties, and then their parade was much smaller than that of the Republicans. The Republicans were an hour and ten minutes passing a given point, while the Democrats were but fifty-three minutes. As usual on such occasions various estimates were put on the number in line in each procession. Several men who made counts give the Republicans 6.000, and and the Democrate less than 4,000. It is certain that the Republicans had between 1,000 and 2,000 more men in line. Nowhere among the throngs of men upon the street could any considerable number of Clevelond men be seen. All in all, it was a Republican night, and was a good indication of the drift of sentiment in this

The Republican parade was by far the most Marion county. It did not abound in pyrotechnics, but was an outpouring of the masses in be-haif of the Republican ticket. It embraced the intelligence and culture of Indianapolis, and sur-rounding townships. Not all the Republicans were in line, but there were men marching who, perhaps, never joined any sort of a political procession before. Conspicuous in many clubs were business men of wealth and influence, lawyers of distinction, and doctors of divinity, who will fill city pulpits this morning. A more orcity. There was enthusiasm Indiana's distinguished son, Gen-Harrison, but there was nothing said or done at which a person of any other political faith could take offense. The several divisions formed on the streets crossing Washington east of the court-house, and for half an hour all that section of the city was alive with marching clubs. The management of Chief Marshal Ruckle and his staff was admirable. After the first division began to move out on to Washington street, there was not a single halt, pach division, with every club in line, failing in

The first division alone was twenty minutes in passing a given point. It was headed by the First Regiment Veteran Club, 1,200 strong. Then strong, folllowed by the Veteran Battalion and the artillery company. It was bere that the Columbia Club could be seen with 50 bandsomely uniformed men in line, all carrying Japanese lanterns fixed to their capes. Fol owing the Columbia Club were the commercial were preceded by the Kazoo Band, and they carried many significant transparencies; among others was this one: "Cleveland and Sackville; Job Lot of English Goods for Sale; Capitol Building, Washington, D. C.; Will Remove to Buffalo, N. Y., after March 4." The First Voters and Griffiths Guards followed. All members were handsomely uniformed, and they carsied many interesting transvarencies. Then came the Third, Fourth, Fifth, Eleventh, Twelfth, Thirteenth and Fourteenth ward clubs, each having from 100 to 300 men in line. The Washington and Pike township clubs were also in this division, nearly all of the men

The second division attracted as much attention as the first. It was led by the Rail-road Club, which has attracted so much attention throughout this campaign. There were 200 men in line, preceded by the familiar Harrison and Morton engine. Next came the Morton Flambeau Cinb, and the Harrison Zouaves. The Irish-American Protective Club followed, with 200 men. Its members carried many significent transparencies, pertaining to the Lord Sackville incident. One of them was, "This is a contest between England and the United States; we vote with the United States," and another was, "Universal Notice to Uncle Sam—Drop Him."

The remainder of this division was constituted of the Seventeenth, Eighteenth, Nineteenth, Twentieth, Twenty-first, Twenty-second and Twenty-third ward clubs, and the clubs from Perry, Franklin and Center township, southeast. All the ward clubs were unusually large, and they carried transparencies and flags and banners in profusion. Perry township furnished 200 men on horseback, and attracted much at-

The third division marched not less than four abreast, and several of the clubs went in plateons of eight. The files were kept closed up, and it was a compact body of voters with the exception of a few boys in the bands and drum corps. The division was led by the Noblesville band of twenty pieces, followed by the regiment of ten companies of Porter Columbians, with the sledge-tammer company in the lead. There were six hundred of them in line, under the command of Marshall P. Wood, and there were several sheepskin bands in their ranks. The Haughville Harrison and Morton Club followed, and made a fine display, having a large number and made a fine display, having a large number of men in line, including a delegation of colored of men in line, including a delegation of colored men and a squadrou of fifty men on horseback.

Next came the Sixteenth Ward Harrison and Morton Club and one hundred cavalry.

There was also a drum corps of thirty pieces, and after that was the Wanamaker Club in bine uniforms and with flambeaux. Then followed the First Ward Club with a drum corps of twenty pieces and 700 men in line, and the Sixth Ward Colored Club of 150, the J. C. Hay Brass Band and the Sixth Ward Business Men's Club with 250 men; the North Indianapolis Brass Band and the Tenth Ward Club, and the big ball on a wagon drawn by four horses were other noticeable features of this part of the display. The fourth division of Charles J. Many marched as compactly as the third division, and was made up of the Washington Township Club, drum corps, the Lawrence Township Club, drum corps, the Fifth ward colored and white Republican clubs, brass band, the Third Ward Harrison and Morton Club, and the Tile-works Club. All the ward clubs had out their full membership, and each had from one hundred to five hundred men in line. Following them came a number of cavalrymen and a mass of several hundred voters who did not belong to any of the organizations; also, about twenty carriages and wagons filled with men carrying flags and torches. In the line was the great ball built in Cum-berland, Md., and which has been rolled to Eastern cities, thence through Pennsylvania and Ohio to Indianapolis, reaching here yesterday to be placed in the parade. It was moved by a detachment of the Harrison and Hovey Veteran Regiment, and bore upon its side the mottoes that have become proverbs in this campaign. After completing the line of march the proces sion was murched to Market and Illinois streets, where it was disbanded.

The Democratic Parade. The Democratic parade, in point of numbers was not a success. It was only fifty-three minutes in passing the corner of Market and Washington streets, and could easily have passed in forty minutes, had there not been frequent halts and breaks in the column. It seemed to be difficult to get even the faithful out. The main rendezvous was at the corner of Illinois and South streets. The first division, only, formed there, and it proved to be the principal part of the procession. The second division formed at the corner of South and Alabama streets, and the third at the corner of South and Meridian streets. The fourth and fifth divisions started from the corner of South and Meridian streets. Tue entire proces-did not number over four thousand men. The New Bethel Club of Franklin township, composed of thirty girls and a "Goddess of Liberty," was perhaps the most attractive club in line. They were accompanied by about the same number of horsemen. The alleged Democratic railroad club was at the head of the line. Then came the men with the gilt cords around their hats, who composed the Matson and Myers Guards. There were only about one hundred of them. There were, by actual count, just 100 men. The Saw-makers' Club and the bakers' organization claimed to have 200 men in line. Each man carried a pretzel on the end of his cane. the Business Men's Club said that organization had 100 men marching. The Young Business Men's Club carried fancy lanterns and numbered about seventy-five. About the same number marched with the Cigar-makers' Club. Following these came the various ward clubs of the city, but the number of men each had was noticed to be much smaller than heretofore. Decatur township turned out seventy-

The Democrate complained frequently about having so little music. The When Band made music for the entire procession. It was a noisy and exceedingly boisterous pro-cession, thoroughly typical of a Democratic turnout. The Democrats showed plainly their disappointment after the parade was over, as they had expected to completely over-whelm the Republicans. When the news reached the Democratic lines that the Republican parade was a grand success, there was a full in the enthusiasm. The procession marched to Tomlinson Hall, where Senator Voorhees and Governor Gray completed the evening's demonstration by speaking ong on the issues of the campaign and the candidates as they viewed them. The audience was comparatively small, but frequently applauded the speakers.

five men, and none of the other townships had a greater number. The absence of bands and martial music was also noticeable.

The Fun & Wagon Load of Girls Caused. A balky horse and the mud caused a large wagon in the Democratic parade to stick at the corner of Meridian and Washington streets last hight. The wagon was drawn by six horses, and loaded with sixty-three solid country girls clad in red bandana dresses. The street was blocked and the parado stopped. In a short time a large crowd gathered around to see the fun. "What's the matter with the wagon?" some one yelled.

"The wagon 's in the mud," was the answer of young Republican club which had come up and had begun to joke with the girls. "Wh at's the matter with Cleveland?" the girls

"Cleveland's in the soup," was the reply of the Republicans, and the crowd cheered and laughed. The boys offered to lift the girls out and carry them to the sidewalk, but they said if they couldn't get Democrats for beaux they wouldn't

"You can't vote," some one said. "Well, we are old enough to vote, and that's more than some of you are," and it was hard to tell whether the laugh was on the boys or the girls. The driver of the team began to get warm by this time and whipped up the team, when the harness broke and the first pair of horses came very nearly getting away. A deman who had ever driven a horse in his life began to give advice. Some one suggested that they should get some one up who could drive. Another asked the driver where he learned to handle horses, anyhow, and another suggested that the horses be hitched to the back end of the wagon and pull it out the way it came. The boys hurrahed for Harrison and the girls for Cleveland, and finally planks were brought and the wagon with its load was pulled out it having accupied just thirty minutes in passing that particular point.

EXPRESSIONS OF ESTEEM.

Gifts to General Harrison and Telegrams Regarding the New York Demonstration.

Quite a number of souvenirs of the campaign were received at the Harrison residence yesterday. Among those presented to General Harrison in person was a handsome gold-headed cane. voted him at St. Malachi's | bazaar, in Chicago. It was brought here by Rev. Thos. H. Hodnett and Mr. John C. McDermott, of Chicago. Father Hodnett, in presenting the cane, accompanied it with a very cordial address, and General Harrison expressed his thanks to the donors, accepting their gift. Another very handsome present received was a beautiful Caligraph type-writer, which came with the following

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 23.

General Benjamin Harrison: Dear Sir-We, as enthusiastic Republicans, beg your acceptance of this Caligraph as a token of our es-teem and hearty support, and as an appreciation of your fidelity to the great principles of the Republican party, of which we a proud to call you its honored and esteemed leader.

Hoping that this machine may prove serviceable to you in the White House, we remain, Yours respectfully.

H. T. CONDE IMPLEMENT COMPANY.

H. T. CONDE, President. Among the correspondence sent out yesterday was a letter of Gen. Harrison's to the Rector children, of Washington, Kan., whose letter, accompanying a present of a jack rabbit, was published in yesterday's Journal. It reads as fol-

My Dear Little Friends-Your letter of Oct. 31 telling me that you intend to send me a jack rabbit for luck has been received. If there is any luck in a rabbit's foot as so many of the colored people in the South believe, then I think your argument that there South believe, then I think your argument that there must be more luck in a whole rabbit is not a "non sequitur." You can ask your father to explain what that means. The rabbit came to-day, and furnishes a good deal of amusement to my little grandson, Benjamin Harrison McKee. In the last number of the "Judge" there is an illustration of what happened to a little boy who had a jack rabbit presented to him which will amuse you, I think. With kind regards for you ali, I am very truly.

B. HARBISON. Last night General Harrison was the recipient of numerous telegrams descriptive of the big Republican demonstration in New York city, of which the following are samples:

NEW YORK, Nov. 3. General Benjamin Harrison: The greatest political procession ever seen in New York has been passing Fifth-avenue Hotel for four hours and seems endless.

James G. Blaine.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3. Gen. Benj. Harrison: Never in forty years have I seen such an immensa crowd of business men in procession as to-day. Con-

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Nov. 3. Gen. Benj Harrison: Blaine is here. Twenty-thousand independent Democrats, Irish-Americans and prohibibitions assembled in Brooklyn under the auspices of the Home and Country Protection Brotherhood, of King county, send you their warm greetings and assurances that they will reduce the Democratic vote here 15,000.

WM: H. GRACE.

the Tenth Ward Clab, and the big ball on a ! Orrice desks at Wm. L. Elder's.

THE WORK OF REPUBLICANS

What the State Committee Has Done in Furthering the Cause of the Party.

A Review of the Campaign in the Speeches Made and the Reading Matter Distributed -- Chairman Huston on the Result,

Indiana Republicans have reason to congratulate themselves upon a brilliant, as well as a successful campaign this year. It is doubtful whether any State organization has ever conducted one of equal duration and magnitude with more courage, patience, intelligence and sound judgment. Now that the eve of the decisive battle is at hand and the lines are formed for the contest of next Tuesday, it may be interesting to review the work which has inspired every Republican in the State with enthusiasm and confidence, and placed the party in the best possible condition for holding this commonwealth in the Republican column. It is only necessary to refer now to the zeal and fervor with which Indiana delegates to the Chicago convention of June last, both those who were regularly accredited, and those who went there as volunteers, fought the good fight which resulted in the nomination of General Harrison for the office of President of the United States. Any reference to the convention brings up the picture of an earnest, watchful, vigilant and untiring delegation profoundly impressed with the availability as well as the marked fitness of its candidate When the convention approved their choice the delegates and workers came home with the determination to carry out every pledge made concerning the canvass in this State, and in the four months that have intervened between that time and the present, the amount of work that has been done to secure the result reached is enough to astonish people who have not kept close watch upon the labors of the various committees and individuals engaged in it. Without going further back than the last two months it is safe to say that during the eight weeks closing Nov. 3, more than 20,000 Republican speeches have been made | by fire last night. The alarm was sent in this State by persons selected by the Repub- in by the tower watchman, about 11 o'clock, lican State and county committees. Of these, 1,824 were made by assignments from the Republican State central committee, but by far the greater number were arranged for by county and local organizations, every county averaging from eight to nine speeches daily, or an average of from 700 to 800 daily for the whole, during the two months mentioned. Among these speeches those made by the Republican presidential candidate himself are remembered as dealing with great questions in a convincing way, and illustrating in brief the issues of the campaign in a very lucid manner. The fear of omitting some of the Republican orators of Indiana who have done yeoman's service in this campaign prevents the Journal from mentioning them by name, but no obstacle of this kind will prevent the people of Indiana from remembering the able canvass made by the nominees on the Republican State ticket this year and the speeches made by them and the State orators who helped their cause. Of those who come from abroad to help the cause there is given a full list, with the exception of the few who came into the State on invitations other than those extended by the Republican State central committee.

the committee's records, are as follows: Col. D. C. Anthony, Kansas; Gen. R. A. Alger, Michigan; Hon. John Brennan, Iowa; Gen. Cyrus Bussey, New York; Judge W. O. Bradley, Kentucky; Gen. W. W. Berry, Illinois; Hon. Theo. Bennard, Maine; Hon. Leonard Brown, Iowa; Hon. James G. Blaine, Maine; Hon. Solon B. Chase, Maine; Hon. Clarke E. Carr, Illinois; Hon. A. B. Campbell, Illinois; Gen. Powell Clayton, Arkansas; Hon. Thomas C. Campbell, New York; Hon. Fred Douglass, Washington, D. C.; Anna Dickinson, Pennsylvania; Hon. Thomas Dudley, New Jersey; Hon. S. A. Douglas, Itlinois; Hon. Patrick Egan, Nebraska; General Lucius Fairchild, Wisconsin; Governor J. B. Foraker, Ohio; Senator T. W. Ferry, Michigan; Hon. Richard Gunther, Wisconsin; Senator W. H. Gibson, Ohio; Hon. Charles H. Grosvenor, Ohio; Hon. Henry Greenbaum, Illinois; Frank Grygla, Minnesota; Hon. Henry Hall, Pennsylvania; Hon. E. G. Hay, Minnesota; General D. H. Hastings, Pennsylvania; Hon. E. R. Hutchings, Iowa; Rev. Barnard Kelly, Kansas; General Adam E. King, Missouri; Chaplain J. H. Lozier, lowa; Hon. George C. Hazelton, Wisconsin; Attorney-general D. K. Watson, Ohio; Hon. E. H. Terrell, Texas; Col. H. S. Wilcox, Iowa, Col. Anson S. Wood, New York; Dillon B. Wil-son, Ohio; Col. A. T. Wood, Kentucky; Senator William Windom, Minnesota; Hon. C. G. Willrame, Dakota; Maj. Charles E. Behle, Pennsylvania; Hon. J. R. Barton, Kansas; Hon. Orlando Briggs, Illinois; Gov. James A. Beaver. Pennsylvania; Gen. W. H. Blair, New Hamp-shire; Hon. Ben Butterworth, Ohio; Hon. J. C. Burrows, Michigan; Gen. C. A. Boutelle, Maine; Hon. M. D. Burns. Washington, D. C.; Hon. John F. Finerty, Illinois; Col. H. B. Hayward, Illinois; Hon. R. T. Lincoln, Illinois; Gov. J. R. G. Pitkin, Louisiana; Hon. R. V. Pullan, Ohio; Rev. Geo. W. Pepper, Ohio; Hon. J. Warren Keifer, Ohio; Gen. John F. Swift, Massachusetts; Senator John Sherman, Ohio; Senator John C. Spooner, Wisconsin; Hon. Alf Taylor, Tennessee; Hon. R. G. Horr, Michigan; Colonel J. R. Hollowell, Kansas; Hon. Jos. W. Ivey, Nebraska; John Jarrett, Pennsylvania; Samuel Job, Illinois; Hon. W. S. Kenworthy, Iowa; General Nathan Kimball, Utah; Rev. G. G. Knuss, Kentucky; C. H. Litchman, Massachusetts; Major Carl Lentz, New Jersey; Colonel Fred Ledergerber, Missouri; Judge William Lawrence, Ohio; General George Many, Tennessee; Hon. Hans Mattson, Minnesota; Hon. M. J. Murray, Massachusetts; Hon. W. M. Marine, Maryland; Col. Joseph Murray, Colorado; ex-Governor E. F. Noyes, Ohio; Major C. K. Pangborn, New Jersey; Hon. F. W. Palmer, Illinois; Colonel C. W. Plummer, Dakota; General Paul Vandervoort, Nebraska; Hon. Wm. Vocke, Illinois; Hon. Henry L. Wilson, Washington Territory: C. H. Litchman, Massachusetts; M dervoort, Nebraska; Hon Wm. Vocke, Illinois; Hon. Henry L. Wilson, Washington Territory; Judge Jere M. Wilson, Washington, D. C.; Jas. Woods, Washington, D. C.; Major O. B. Ward, Dakota; Hon. Benj. F. Peixotto, New York; Col. Chas. R. Pope, Missouri; Hon. M. C. Quinn, Illinois; Eccles Robinson, Pennsylvania; Gen. Green B. Raum, Illinois, Hon. Thos. B. Reed, Maine; Gen. J. S. Robinson, Ohio; Hon. Channing Richards, Ohio; John J. Smallwood, Pennsylvania; Gen. Geo. A. Sheridan, Louisiana; Broadaxe Smith, Pennsylvania; Hon. John F. Scanlon, Illinois; Col. A. L. Snowden, Pennsylvania; Hon. Giles B. Stebbins, Michigan; Hon. Aaron Turner, Minnesota; Corporal James Tan-Aaron Turner, Minnesota; Corporal James Tan-ner, New York; Hon. Thos. W. Taylor, Penn-sylvania; Hon. Edward Tompkins, Ohio; Hon. J. M. Thurston, Nebraska: Hon. J. G. Tate, Nebraska; Judge A. W. Tourgee, New

The names of these speakers, as they stand on

With reference to the demand for literary pabulum other than that furnished by speakers from this and other States, inquiry at the headquarters of the Republican State central committee elicited the information that never in the history of any State campaign had the demand been so voracious for reading matter on political and economic subjects. Great as it was it was fully met. The main demand was for publications on the subject of the tariff and protection, but there were many requests for literature connected with the temperance question and State issues. One hundred and fifty-two different kinds of documents were sent out by the committee, and over 140,-000 tracts were distributed through the State by the Pennsylvania Steel and Iron Association. Of special speeches sent out from State headquarters 60,000 copies of Congeessman Mc-Kinley's were circulated, 30,000 of Congressman Tom Reed's, and 20,000 of Senator Frve's. Other documents furnished included 50,000 copies of the campaign edition of the St. Louis Tribune, in German, and McKinley's, Frye's, Reed's and Platt's tariff speeches were also furnished in that language, together with large quantities of the Cincinnati Volksblatt and St. Louis Westliche Post. About 300,000 copies of General Harrison's record on the liquor question were sent out, together with about 300,000 refutations of the "dollar-a-day lie." When it is remembered that in addition to the foregoing 300,000 lithograph pictures of General Harrison were furnished by the committee, it seems safe to say that the total issues of the committee in the direction of campaign literature exceeded a million by a considerable number. Besides these the Protection and Tariff Associations of Philadelphia, Pittsburg, Boston and New York have responded to individual requests, and sent out large supplies of literature to county chairmen and club organizations throughout the State.

"The work of the Republican State central committe," said Secretary Dille, yesterday, "has been harmonious, and the members of it have done whatever they could find to do in addition to the work assigned them. There have been various newspaper reports of quarrels among us, but they had no foundation, and we paid no attention to such statements. In whatever we have done, we have had the active sup-has only been necessary to stick up a notice at a cross-roads to bring out a mass-meeting, and at some of our gatherings our people have been counted by the acre instead of the thousands. It has been a great campaign, and from one end of it to the other I have never heard a Kepublican say we would be beaten."

(ESTABLISHED 1853.)

The stock in this department is now full, and contains a most complete assortment of all sorts and sizes of Underwear in Natural Wool, Scarlet and Camel's Hair, for Ladies. Misses and Children and Men's and Boys' joint ballot. I figure on a plurality for the Harrison and Morton electoral ticket in this State of at least 12,000, and that We are sole agents in this city for the earnest of their intentions may be gathered from their constant use of forged circulars printed on our headings, and signed by order of the committee. I have as much respect for a man who would forge my name as for a man

And show a full line of those beautiful goods who forges circulars in that way, and where there is a willingness to indulge in scoundrelism for both ladies and gentlemen. It is someof that kind there is no telling where it will thing to look at these goods, even if you do not purchase them. Therefore, when visiting our Underwear Department you should not fail to see them. The Building and Material Burned, While

The Indianapolis Excelsior Manufactory, located at the end of the canal, between mill B of the Aeme Milling Company and Chandler & Taylor's establishment, was destroyed and when the firemen reached the place the flames were coming in several places from the We have a very large line of Ladies' Black factory. The sheds were also burning. A sec-Fleece-lined Hose, positively fast colors. ond alarm was sounded, and despite the efforts of the two relays of firemen the factory and Also an extensive line of Ladies' Hosiery in sheds were wholly destroyed. It is said that the factory was simost burned to the ground when the alarm was sent in. J. B. Johnson, the principal owner of the

Ladies' and Children's Lambs'-Wool Hose,

Men's Merino Half-Hose in great variety. A splendid line of celebrated Shawknit Half-Hose.

An endless variety of Infants' Hosiery in Cashmere, Merino and Machine-Knit, Fascinators, Hoods, Toboggans, Leggings, Bootees, Infants' Sacques and Embroidered Flannel Shawls,

A fine assortment of Children's Plush Cloaks and Infants' Long Cloaks.

ities, from $1 to $10 a yard.

Cur stock of Kid Gloves comprises all the new fall styles.

We show a splendid assortment of Ladies' Mittens in Silk and Fine Sazony Wool. Also, Gloves of all sorts for Men and Boys.

White Blankets at 85c, 90c, $1, $1.25, $1.50, $1.75, $2, $2.50, $3, $3.50, $4, $5, $5.50, $6, $8, $10, $11, $12.

Colored Blankets at $1.75, $2, $2.39, $2.50, $3, $3.50, $4, $4,50, $5, $6, $7. $8. Every Blanket Good Value.

TRIMMING DEPARTMENT

We call special attention to our Persian Embroidered Trimmings, Galloon Band Trimmings, Separating Gimps, Black Hand-Made Crochet Gimps, plain and beaded.

Buckles to match every color, and all the latest novelties in Buttons.

We are offering a choice line of Colored Plushes, 19 inches wide, at 75c and 95c. Also, an extra quality 24-inch Dress Plush, in finest colors, for $1.25; actually worth $1.75

Black Dress Velvets, all widths and qual-Colored Velvets in every shade, at $1, $1.50 and $2 a yard.

Quilted linings in Satin or Farmer's Satin, all colors, 50c and 75c a yard.

PRICES MARKED IN PLAIN FIGURES

PETTIS, BASSETT &

WATER vs. FIRE

Water enough since our fire to put it out. It is out. But the fire. damaged goods are not-some are left. The water doesn't put our customers out. They don't mind it. They come through the rain. The ruinously low prices on CARPETS. LACE CURTAINS, PORTIERES and RUGS bring them. We couldn't make this sacrifice if the insurance companies had not promptly adjusted our loss. They have. Get the benefit of it before the goods are all gone. Splendid bargains still left.

ASTMAN. SCHLEICHER

CARPETS, DRAPERIES, WALL-PAPER. THE LARGEST HOUSE IN THE STATE NUMEROUS

NEW SUBJECTS

ETCHINGS.

H. LIEBER & CO.'S RT EMPORIUM

33 South Meridian Street.

The Cleanfast, Onyx, Electric and Parisian Ingrain Fast Black

WM. HÆRLE'S NEW STORE, No. 4 West Washington Street.

A Story of Now. By Ram. sey Morris. Price.....50 Cents,

CATHCART, CLELAND & CO 26 East Washington Street.

PANG YIM At No. 7 Massachusetts avenue, has opened a room and filled it with rare kinds of Chinese and Japanese Work, Japanese Curtains, Rose Jar Perfumes, Vases, Fire Screens, etc. Many kinds of Chinese Tea Sets, etc. Also, Chinese Teas.

BARGAINS

DRESS GOODS, 5, 10, 1212, 15, 20, 25, 35, 40, | COMFORTS, 50c, 75c, $1, $1.25, $1.50, $1.75 45, 50c and up. PLANNELS, 10, 1212, 15, 20, 25, 30, 35c and up. CASSIMERES, 25, 35, 40, 50, 65, 75, 85c and $1. JEANS. 15, 20, 25, 35 and 45c. BLANKETS, 78c, 98c, $1, $1.25, $1.50, $2, $2.35

Ladies' Underwear, 25c. Ladies' Corsets, 25c. Ladies' Cashmere Gloves. 20c. Ladies' Wool Hosiery, 20c. Gents' Underwear, 25c. Gents' Flaunel Shirts, 75c. Gents' Unlaundried Shirts, 50c. Gente' Woo! Hosiery, 15c. Bargains in every Department.

DEDERT & SUDBROCK. 158 & 160 East Washington Street.

REATBARGAINSALE

ALBERT GALL Will offer MONDAY and every day during the Week, until closed out, the following SPECIAL and EXTRAORDINARY BARGAINS.

In addition to above enumerated bargains, we have more than fifty different articles in our CURTAIN AND UPHOLSTERY DEPARTMENT upon which we have made corresponding reductions. Persons desiring CURTAIN MATERIALS of any kind can SAVE MONEY BY BUYING OF US THIS WEEK.

OIL CLOTHS! PAPER HANGINGS! THE LATEST STYLES OF CURTAINS AND CARPETINGS

We will show this week the very latest fall styles of LACE CURTAINS, PORTIERE CURTAINS, ART SILKS, BURMESE SILKS, and many novelties of the various grades of Decorative Goods just received. Also, full lines of

ROYAL WILTON, ENGLISH VELVET, SMITH'S MOQUETTE, BODY BRUSSELS, TAPESTRY BRUSSELS, And INGRAIN.

SPECIAL NOTICE—I will offer Special and Unusual Bargains in my CARPET and WALL-PAPER DEPARTMENTS. It you wish to buy CARPETS, CURTAINS, LINOLEUMS, MATTINGS, RUGS, SEE MY STOCK.

ALBERT GALL, 17&19 W. WASHINGTON ST.